THAW LUNACY COMMISSIONERS FIND THE DEFENDANT SANE.

Members in Session Till Early This Morning and Then Went Into Conference With Justice Fitzgerald.

RECESS TAKEN TILL 2 O'CLOCK.

Physicians and Legal Members Finally Reach An Agreement and Make
Report to Court—Trial Must Now
Be Resumed Where It Was Dropped.

Publishers' Press Telegram.
NEW YORK, Apr. 4.—The Thaw Lunacy Commission this afternoon filed its report, finding Harry K. Thaw sane. The trial must now be resumed where it was left off when District Attorney Jerome made his demand for the Commission.

The trial will now likely be ended this week.

Excitement prevailed about the court house this morning when it became known that the Lunacy Commission was closed with Justice Fitzgerald since 10 o'clock and that the Commission had been in session until 1 o'clock this morning. This led to a report that the members of the Board had been unable to reach a decision. Hope was written on the faces of Mrs. William Thaw, Mrs. Evelyn Thaw and the Countess of Yarmouth, when they arrived in the court room. Thaw's lawyers were also early arrivals expecting Justice Belmont. As the moment dragged along with no word from the Commissioners they showed nervousness.

Thaw in an anteroom was visibly worried not knowing the reason for the long delay. The Thaw jury came into court at 11:30 and was immediately excused until 2 o'clock this afternoon owing to the fact that the Commission had not yet completed its report. Justice Fitzgerald at once returned to his private chambers for consultation with the Lunacy Commission.

It is understood that the Commission is divided in its opinion as to the sanity of Thaw. Dr. Putzell, it was reported, has failed to agree with the legal members in considering Thaw's case.

Justice Fitzgerald hoped to get a unanimous verdict. The members of the Commission, evidently believing this possible, for they were given longer time for discussion. It was for this purpose a recess was taken until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Just two years ago today Harry K. Thaw and Evelyn Nesbit were married in Pittsburgh. With the confidence born of the belief that nothing but good could come to him on his wedding anniversary, Thaw went to court today firmly expecting the Lunacy Board would declare him sane. Evelyn shared with her husband the confidence that their anniversary must prove a "lucky day for Harry." "A chance for his freedom," is the way Thaw and his young wife expressed their hope for a pleasing present from the Board.

A report declaring Thaw sane within the meaning of the law, and sending his case back to the jury, both regarded as the finest gift possible for them. Thaw's attorneys encouraged them in this belief and the feeling that the Lunacy Board would declare Thaw sane was shared by nearly everybody this morning.

Shortly before noon Dr. Putzell withdrew from the council of the Commissioners and left the court house. He started toward his office. The other Commissioners remained in session with Justice Fitzgerald. Dr. Putzell, it is reported, has finally withdrawn from the Commission. Another report is that the Commission is hopelessly divided and has submitted to Justice Fitzgerald majority and minority reports. A rumor had it that Dr. Putzell believes Thaw insane and is standing out against the others. Jerome refuses to discuss the situation. Hartridge declared he had not the slightest idea of what had happened, but declared his belief that the delay was favorable to Thaw.

McPike made the point that a divided report with a majority believing Thaw sane is much better for the defense than an unanimous report of sanity.

POWDER HEARING.

Testimony Before Commissioner Det
wiler at Uniontown Was Chiefly Along Expert Lines.

The hearing in the powder mill controversy between the big mill owners and the citizens of Fairchance and vicinity was continued at Uniontown yesterday before Commissioner H. P. Detwiler, District Superintendent of the DuPont Powder Corporation. The hearing was held in the court room of the Uniontown town hall. The hearing was held in the court room of the Uniontown town hall. The hearing was held in the court room of the Uniontown town hall.

Ford gave as his opinion that if 1,000 kegs of powder would explode, missiles would be sent through the air for much less than twice the distance in case of an explosion where there were but 500 kegs. The reason assigned was that the farther they would go the more dense the air would become. The same ratio held good as to the larger amounts.

When asked about the number of employees Ford stated that there were now about 25, but that the number would soon be increased to 50. He said that there were three kinds of grades of powder manufactured. Each of this is sold to the coke companies for use about the mines. In case of an explosion in a mine where there might be from 2,000 to 3,000 kegs of powder, Ford gave as his opinion that there would be a long drawn out report rather than a quick flash, yet he said there would not be separate explosions as in the case of a lot of firecrackers fired together.

During the hearing yesterday quite a number of the women of Georges township were present in court, the jury box and many of the other seats being filled. There were also a number of other interested spectators.

ough in Herwick Suit.

UNIONTOWN, Apr. 4.—Attorneys E. C. Hibbs and P. J. Newinger have filed an appeal in the Court of Common Pleas against the award of the viewers who sat on the Youghiogheny bridge view some weeks ago. Newinger, President, and Eugene T. Norton, Secretary-Treasurer of the Youghiogheny Bridge Company.

The appellants set forth that they are not taking the appeal for the purpose of delaying the proceedings, but because of an injustice being done them.

MAY BE TROUBLE

When Slovaks and Hungarians Meet
Here Next Sunday.

Letters by prominent Hungarians have been mailed from Connellsville calling on the members of that race to hold a mass meeting in German hall on Sunday, April 7, at four o'clock in the afternoon. The circulars state that the Slovak League has planned a demonstration against their native land, Hungary to be held on the same day in the New Haven Slavish hall which the writers say, will be largely attended. They now call on loyal Hungarians to attend the meeting in German hall to refute the statements to be made by the Slovaks.

Another meeting is also called for April 11, at 1 o'clock in the afternoon to further denounce the attitude of the Slovaks. There are about 1,000 native Hungarians in the vicinity of Connellsville and about the same number of Slovaks. Indications are that both meetings will be well attended.

The dispute is over something that occurred years ago in the old county. The more conservative members of both parties are anxious to avoid trouble but it is generally admitted that there is grave danger of the two races coming together. Both races come from the same country, but the Slovaks speak their own language, something they have retained during the centuries they have been under the rule of Hungary. The Slovaks claim oppression in Hungary while the Magyars accuse the Slovaks of political disloyalty and intrigues with Russia claiming that the Hungarian Government has always treated the Slovaks and other races fairly.

These communications have been mailed throughout the coke region and foreigners from all parts of the county are expected to attend both meetings.

Young Local Artist Makes Good in Judge's Contest.

Barton's drawings have caused no little amusement among school at different times. His cartoons are pretty clever.

AND SHORTER WORKING HOURS.

Proposition of the Managers Was Turned Down and Then Both Sides
at 1 O'Clock This Afternoon Agreed to Disagree—Effects Western Penna.

A strike that will affect the whole of Western Pennsylvania will go into effect tomorrow morning at every union brewery. There will be about 75 plants affected. Among them will be all of the breweries in Fayette county, including the two in Connellsville, the Connellsville plant of the Pittsburgh Brewery and the plant of the Young company. For ten days or two weeks there have been numerous conferences between the brewery managers and the representatives of the brewery unions. A satisfactory settlement could not be arrived at and at 1 o'clock this afternoon all negotiations were declared off and a strike will be on tomorrow morning.

The brewery unions had asked for higher wages and shorter hours. Their demands, a manager of a local brewery said this afternoon, would have increased the salaries of many men from $3.00 to $4.00 a week. They also asked for an eight hour day. An eight hour day was granted by the managers to some of the men with nine hours for the others. The managers also agreed to leave the other matters to a committee of the brewers and the men from the unions to arbitrate. The brewers were to have three members, the unions three and the seventh man to be chosen by the six thus chosen. This proposition was turned down.

At the time "The Courier" went to press this afternoon the grievance of the brewery workers could not be learned. Whether or not the brewing companies will make an effort to operate their plants was not stated this afternoon. All of them, however, or have brews on hand that represent many thousands of dollars.

BETTER CARE OF MINE STOCK.

General Improvement in Stables and Equipment
Provided in Mines

ARE MANY WATERING TROUGHS.

Formerly Animals Had to Forage for a Drink—Have Good Attention from Drivers Who Take Pride in the Horses and Mules.

From the Weekly Courier.

In the past few years wonderful improvements in the care of stock in the mines have been projected and carried out. In this line, like in every other in the mining and coking of coal, the H. C. Frick Coke Company has taken the initiative and as well have the ideas been carried out that independent operators have quickly adopted them. There was a time when the killing of two or three animals in a mine a day was just an "item." Now it is different, and is looked upon with considerable disfavor. Horse flesh now is more valuable than it has ever been in the history of mining.

But this is not the real reason for the splendid care that is taken of the mine horse or mule. Years of mining, or rather a practical education in the conduct of mines, has brought the change, and with it there is not a little of the humanitarian idea mixed. When the killing of so many horses and mules and maintaining of thousands every year was brought home with telling force to the officials of the company they began looking about for better methods and a better way of keeping the horses and mules living for a few years longer. The cost was not figured upon. In the coke making rush and the effort to protect the loss of the men, every possible effort was extended but to the care of horses there was given no thought. Then began a new form of procedure. The horses were quartered in the mines for years in abandoned rooms used for stables. They were looked upon by Superintendents, drivers and others as very good and warm quarters. Their feed was scattered upon the floor and the animals licked it up. No straw was found beneath them during the night, and after a hard day's work they found little comfort in their lodgings. The result was that many of them became weak, were easily caught by trips and killed or sickened and died.

Now the horses and mules that work in the mines have stables that compare with those of the fancy stables on the city streets. They have stalls of their own, lighted by electricity. There is plenty of feed served to them in the regulation feed box, and plenty of hay for them to eat. They are given their daily washing and currying, things never thought of five years ago. The mine horse and mule now has as much grooming as the finely bred animal that is used only for exhibition purposes. Stable bosses and drivers take as much interest in the animals as the jockey that drives the purse winner.

One of the most important and far reaching features of the treatment of mine animals the present day is the watering of them. Time was when a horse or mule had to practically forage for a drink. Under the new method of treating stock, a horse finds on every landing a pool of fresh, pure water to quench his thirst. One of the strictest orders that the officials have to carry out is in regard to supplying good, fresh water daily for the horses and mules. A wagon brings the daily supply for these and it is placed in all the troughs on every day in the mine, and the stock can stop at these troughs just the same as it would stop along a country road to get a drink. They are never empty, and the supply must be fresh every day.

The first sign of sickness in an animal means that he will be lifted to earth and given treatment and then allowed to roam about the fields until he becomes again in good condition to enter the mines. There is, however, a sort of a hospital to which horses are sent in the mines for ordinary treatment for slight injuries. When a horse has a contagious disease he is quickly taken from the pit and not allowed to associate with other animals. The best of care is taken of the animal until he is well. Many of the horses earn a whole summer's rest, and have the delights of a grassy meadow for the larger part of the year.

To the officials of the company belong the credit for organizing the system of taking care of the stock, but to the employees is due the credit of carrying out the ideas. There are drivers in the mines who think as much of their horses as they do of any member of their family. They watch over the animal and keep it in such a condition that it never wants anything and is always ready to perform its day's work with the greatest alacrity. The officials of the company early saw that it was necessary to get the men who drove the animals to take an interest in their work and also the care of them. In order to do this they first provided the means and then offered prizes for the work. The result was that in many places where horses were killed daily the accident list was reduced over one-half and the stock was better cared for, looked better and performed a better day's work. A good driver in a mine is a jewel and every Superintendent then set about to keep up the good record by keeping up the men's interest in their work. The result is that drivers very seldom leave their faithful old horses and when they are deprived of them through natural or accidental means they feel as badly as if they lost a near relative.

MARKLEYSBURG BOOM.

Buying Acreage in Wharton and Henry Clay Townships.

Heavy dealings in coal lands in the vicinity of Markleysburg, Fayette county, are a forerunner of a big boom for that section and operators are rapidly getting busy buying up all the land they can lay their hands on. Within the past week over 20 acres of coal territory has been disposed of and it is reported that more big deals are on the carpet. The land is at present selling at $12 per acre. The owners have become aware of the fact that there is something doing in the coal line and are beginning to hold on to their property.

Don Zimmerman, a heavy coal investor of Somerset, is probably the heaviest purchaser in the Markleysburg region. He has already obtained several thousand acres in Henry Clay and Wharton townships and it is reported he has options on many acres more.

It was Mr. Zimmerman who discovered the valuable vein of coking coal. After drilling five holes for testing purposes he discovered the vein to be almost the equal of the famous Klondike coal and immediately began buying up all the available land in sight. He was followed by Jerry Thomas of Clifton Mills, and a number of other operators who are buying up the land as fast as they can obtain it.

Markleysburg is an altogether new field, little coal land having been Baltimore & Ohio railroad is within easy reach and every necessary facility for getting out the coal is available.

He was for years a Division Superintendent, having in charge all the district north of Scottdale. He has been succeeded at the plant by William Colborn, formerly mine boss there. The General Condemnation of So-Called Patent or Secret Medicines of an injurious character, which indulge in extravagant and unfounded pretensions to cure all manner of ills, and the

have established more clearly than could have been accomplished in any other way

The Value and Importance of Ethical Remedies.

Remedies which physicians sanction for family use, as they act most beneficially and are gentle yet prompt in effect, and called ethical, because they are of Known Excellence and Quality and of Known Component Parts.

To gain the full confidence of the Well-Informed of the world and the approval of the most eminent physicians, it is essential that the component parts be known to and approved by them, and, therefore, the California Fig Syrup Company has published for many years past in its advertisements and upon every package a full statement thereof. The perfect purity and uniformity of product which they demand in a laxative remedy of an ethical character are assured by the California Fig Syrup Company's original method of manufacture, known to the Company only.

There are other ethical remedies approved by physicians, but the product of the California Fig Syrup Company possesses the advantage over all other family laxatives that it cleanses, sweetens and relieves the internal organs on which it acts, without disturbing the natural functions or any debilitating after effects and without having to increase the quantity from time to time.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of Syrup of Figs, and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent of family laxatives, and as its pure laxative principle, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well-Informed of the world to be the best of natural laxatives, we have adopted the more elaborate name of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of Syrup of Figs; and to get its beneficial effects, always note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package, whether you simply call for Syrup of Figs, or by the full name, Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, as Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is the one laxative remedy manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Company, and the same heretofore known by the name, Syrup of Figs, which has given satisfaction to millions. The genuine is for sale by all leading druggists throughout the United States in original packages of one size only, the regular price of which is fifty cents per bottle.

Every bottle is sold under the general guarantee of the Company, filed with the Secretary of Agriculture, at Washington, D. C., the remedy is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906.

to convince a man through the newspapers that our $3.50 Shoe is the peer of any equally priced shoe on the market is not easy. We prefer to have you come in here, look at the shoe, examine it on, walk around the store with the shoe on your foot, and—well by that time you will be handing over the money. We have great confidence in this shoe and it troubles us to know that you are paying your good money elsewhere and not getting as good a shoe.

ROCKWOOD.

Bright Paragraphs From the Big Somerset County Borough.

ROCKWOOD, Apr. 4.—Considerable illness is making itself known in our town for this time of the year, not any particular kind of epidemic, but just general ailments. Mrs. Penrose Wolf, wife of the well known lumber man, has been confined to the house for several days. Harry C. McCormick, the West Main street druggist, is seriously ill, troubled with weakness of the heart. Samuel Shultz, a brakeman on the Somerset & Cambria branch, is confined to his bed with Bright's disease. Mr. Shultz has been complaining for several years, but kept on working until he was entirely worn out. Absalom Yowler of Millford township, who has been suffering from dropsy for the past year or more, is not expected to live more than a few hours. This veteran of the Civil War has made a brave fight for his life, but his age is against him and the physicians have given up hope for his recovery.

While seated in J. W. Hoover's pool room recently, Frank Elcher suddenly fell from his seat to the floor. His friends seeing that he was unable to rise, picked him up and seated him on a bench, calling in Dr. Snyder, who happened to be passing at the time. The physician said he was suffering from paralysis, and had him removed to his home. Some time after his arrival there he suffered another stroke, which rendered his left side completely helpless. At this time he is still in a helpless condition. Paralysis seems to be hereditary in this family, as at least four of the young man's uncles and aunts have suffered similar to this.

Hiram Uphouse, who owns several farms in Middlebrook township and who until recently lived on one of them, has retired and moved to town. He is now residing in David Snyder's house on West Main street. Mr. Uphouse still holds the farms, but has rented them.

Irwin Ream has moved into one of the houses on the Harrison Snyder farm in Black township and will take care of Mr. Snyder's coal business. J. D. Snyder is busy improving the recently acquired real estate on West Main street. The old stable has been demolished, and the dwelling house moved back to the rear of the lot. Mr. Snyder will at once begin to build his store room and residence at the front of the lot.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Miller of Johnstown are again in our city visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Snyder.

Joseph Kessler, the aged colorist now living at New Centerville, made his regular monthly visit to our town yesterday. Joseph would like to get a house in town, wishing to locate here again.

There is more Chinch in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a fatal disease and prescribed all kinds of remedies, and by continuing to fall to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. It is a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a tea spoonful. It cures directly on the blood and nervous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circular and testimonial. Address: Dr. E. J. Letter to Jos. T. Johnston, Connellsville, Pa.

Dear Sir: What will it cost to sow ten acres, half wheat and half daisies mixed? and what'll the crop be worth?

We don't know what daisy-seed costs, nor how bulky it is; we suspect half wheat and half daisies would make a big crop of daisies, and last a long time; the wheat might be short.

The parable throws some light on the cost of a paint half whitewash. Whitewash, all-paint in look and feel; indeed, nine-tenths of the "paint" in the stores is part whitewash; some half, some more, some less.

Paint has to be spread with the brush, the surface prepared, the ladders, scaffolds, pulleys and ropes arranged and moved, there's a great deal of labor in putting paint on; it costs $2 to $3 a gallon to do it.

What does it cost to paint whitewash? Just the same. Half whitewash? Just the same. It doesn't seem worth while for the whitewash dealer to mix, nor good.

Will the paint hold the whitewash fast? or the whitewash loosen the paint?

Better paint pure paint, the best gallons paint, the least-money paint, Devoe.

Yours truly,
P. W. DEVOE & CO.

By THOMAS W. LAWSON

Author of "Frenzied Finance"

A Story of Passionate Love and Money Madness

The hero is a daring young broker who retrieves the fortunes of the family of the woman he loves, a beautiful daughter of the south (they have been victims of "The System") with the greatest "coup" in the history of "The Street." The fever of money madness and the curse of speculation run throughout the story. This terrific conflict between character and money, and the shifting and glittering background of frenzied finance, makes a novel which would be absorbing to every man and woman were it by an unknown author. Being by Mr. Lawson, it will undoubtedly be the most discussed story of our generation.

THE CASE OF HARRIMAN VS. ROOSEVELT.

The case of Harriman against Roosevelt will not be seriously considered by the people. It is manifestly an attempt on the part of corporate influences smarting under the blows of the Big Stick to weaken their effect and to prevent the possibility of their continuance after 1908.

The country will believe the President when it comes to a matter of personal veracity because he is known to be a clean man. He has proven his official integrity by his official acts.
He has been the champion of the people, and the people will be slow to believe the calumnies of his and their enemies.

And they will be right.
President Roosevelt made no entangling alliances, no embarrassing promises. He went into office with no barnacles on his back and no purpose but an earnest desire to serve his country. He has given many and strenuous proofs of these facts.

Harriman's story of his political contribution may be considered as to the amount contributed and the returns expected, but that he had any "bargains" with Roosevelt himself will never be believed unless the evidence is direct, positive and conclusive,
which up to date it is signally not.
The parties to the controversy, however, are not wholly blameless.

Harriman and his crowd evidently played the game of politics just as Uniontown sports play the game of poker,
which is to say as a commercial proposition. They lost and now they squeal.
This is not considered good form, even
by gamblers.

President Roosevelt's only fault has been that he has talked too much. He ought to leave that to Harriman and his able assistant, Alton B. Parker, who recently also ran. Harriman may be a liar, but the President descended somewhat from his dignity to call him one and to engage in controversy with him. It is true Theodore Roosevelt is only human, and very human at that. This will be his excuse and his justification in the eyes of most American people, but they will feel like telling him not to do it again, first because it is unbecoming in the nation's Chief Magistrate, and second because he doesn't have to convince the people of his official integrity.

POSTOFFICES AS POPULATION-MAKERS.

The Uniontown Herald figures out with characteristic optimism that the county seat, to whose growth and greatness we all more or less cheerfully contribute, has at last become the Queen Bee of the live thanks to the energy and enterprise of the Fayette county Drones. The mathematical calculation is based on postoffice receipts.

With equal propriety might the jail receipts be used as a basis by the Lightning Calculator of the County Seat. They are at least a positive proof of increased population, however fleeting the population.

It must be remembered that the politicians all live at the county seat, and that thousands, maybe millions, of circulars are being sent through the Uniontown postoffice to the defenseless voters of Fayette county. Think of the cart-loads and wagon-loads and train-loads of circulars, printed in typewriter type and signed with facsimile signatures, to say nothing of the tons of ordinary printed matter,
that went through the Uniontown postoffice last fall when nearly every body
in that town was running for office.

It must be remembered, too, that Uniontown is the center of distribution for a large part of Fayette county. It carries more nearly kind of a postal center than any other kind of a center.

It's no wonder Uniontown's postoffice receipts are $42,000, but it's no proof that her population is greater than that of Connelleville and New Haven. Figures don't lie, but people do. Who knows they do, because Teddy told us.

The Old Man—By ginger! There's the only kind of blitters that seems to suit my taste any more.

FAITH AND WORKS.

There are a great many good people who think they have a through ticket to heaven because they have faith, but if we remember correctly the Scriptures say, "Faith without works is dead."

Christians must not only have faith,
but they must demonstrate their faith
by their deeds. They must practice what they preach. They must follow in their daily life the example of the Great Teacher as well as believing on Him.

The Gospel of Love means much beside faith. The Master has said so.
Professions are well enough, but practise is necessary to make them full and perfect. Be not only just and fair, but if possible be generous, and always be charitable.

If we can't be perfect, let us be as good as we can, and let us weary not in trying.

Uniontown may spend more money for postage stamps than we do, but when it comes to mine boss examinations candidates come to Connelleville, not because the examinations are any easier, but because it is more convenient to come to the center of the coke region.

The spotlight of fame found Parker
again, for a moment.

The H. C. Frick Coke Company
doesn't want any blood on its coal nor does it want its coke watered out with the tears of anguish. Corporations have no souls, but their officers and managers have.

The New Haven Health Officer has
a proper sense of his duty at this season of the year.

It's a pity Connelleville hasn't a picnic park of its own. The Merchants' Association would then have no difficulty in making up their minds where to hold their annual outing.

Spring elopements are budding.

Westmoreland political ambitions are just now running strongly toward the Poor House. Another case of benevolent assimilation.

Greene county people offer no objection to piping natural gas outside of its borders as West Virginia did recently. They feel that they have an abundance and are willing to share it with others, for a proper compensation.

The Chicago Busse carried everything. Mayor Dunne was done to a finish.

The Zundell breach of promise case
has been followed by the Zuker claim.
The Z's are not to be trifled with. They

The Hague Conference will soon assemble again. It's last meeting was followed by war. Let us hope that the example will not prove to be an es-

Uniontown's arbiters of fashion tell

The Greensburg Argus wags its wise old head and points out with triumph that Democracy that the State Capitol charges were not "campaign lies."
No; they were not. But the charge that Governor Stuart would shield the rascals by declining to investigate the scandal was a campaign lie that was uttered and echoed by the Democratic orators and organs all over the State.
The Republican press as a rule did not deny the gravity of the charges,

but they insisted that Governor Stuart would probe them and bring any guilty persons to account, and he hasn't lost any time in the effort to do so.

The Johnstown Tribune reasons that Altona's real genius is not the "how-maker who has discovered how to make fuel out of ashes, but the chap
who has been handling the story."
It requires a heated imagination to write hot stuff, but such imagination is not always heated in the fires of genius.

The Charleston Mail demands a general cleaning up of the town.

This is a good spring prescription
for every town.

The McKeesport News hopes to see the new primary election bill defeated because it places a premium on bribery and for the additional reason that the people are getting tired of con-stant tinkering with the election laws.

The first is a valid objection but the last is not. The Uniform Primary was hastily conceived and like all such laws has many defects which correction and experience have discovered. These should be intelligently remedied but no new and doubtful provisions should be engrafted upon the original. The vest-pocket amendment is a more than doubtful improvement.

The Johnstown Democrat sagely observes that we have the Capitol and the other fellows have the capital.
But what the other fellows have knocked down may yet be shaken out.

In The

Carpet Room.

We want you to get better acquainted with this department in this store. It ought to be worth something to you to know something about the kind of goods we sell in this upstairs room of ours.
From now on we expect to be busy, real busy, but not so busy but that we can take time to show you the kind of carpets and curtains and rugs we have in this department. One way to get carpet knowledge is to come and see this display. Another way is to ask your neighbor about the quality of our carpets, how they are made and laid. If you are going to spend your money this spring in carpets or rugs you owe it to your pocketbook to find out all you can about carpets and rugs. We are at all times ready to tell you about and show you the carpets
and rugs we have here.

Stinson Tapestry Carpet and Stinson Velvet Carpet.

For over thirty years this store
has handled this make of carpets and in all that time we have never had a serious complaint as to the wearing qualities of this make of carpet. Most everybody in this neighborhood knows something about Stinson carpets, and if you've a carpet thought for this spring it will be easy for you to get the opinion of some one who has a carpet of this make. As to prices, in spite of the advance in everything, they remain the same as last year, $1.10 for the Tapestry and $1.25 for the velvet, and that means made, laid and lined for these prices.

9x12 Rugs.

We have a pretty fair assortment of these for you to choose from. Just now more prettier than we will have later on. Starting with a Tapestry Rug at $16.50;
then Stinson Tapestry Rugs at $22.00, Stinson Velvet Rugs at $25.00, Bigelow Electric Rugs at $27.00, Bigelow Brussels Rugs at $28.00 to $32.00, and Wilton Rugs at $10.00 and $15.00. We've a collection of rugs here that are worth seeing if you have a rug thought.
Patterns that you will not see shown elsewhere in this vicinity.

Mattings.

Shipped direct to us from China and Japan with just one party to have a price between us and the makers. We believe we can sell you better mattings for the money than you can buy elsewhere in this vicinity. Way for you to find out is to come and see the mattings and learn the prices. Never had a prettier line of patterns to show you than we have this season.

Lace Curtains.

Starting at $1.00 the pair and from that on up as far as you care to go. We've an assortment of curtains here that's worth seeing and worth buying. We call special attention to the curtains we have here at $2.00 the pair and ask you to compare them with any you can find shown elsewhere at from $5.00 to $7.00 more the pair.
It has always been a hobby with us to have some special values at this price of $2.00 and these for this season are more than ordinary good for this price.

Health Officer Alex. Tarr Issues Proclamation in New Haven.

TO MAKE THOROUGH INSPECTION

House to House, Street to Street and Alley to Alley Visit Will Be Paid by Health Officer to See That Orders
Are Obeyed.

New Haven is to take on an equal footing with its big sister, Connellsville, regarding the spring cleaning up crusade. In an edict just issued Health Officer Alex. Tarr prevails upon the good citizens to aid him in the work of ridding the town of all unsanitary substances. What he asks is the discontinuance of all dumping of garbage in back alleys and back yards, removal of tin cans from the premises and the burning of waste paper and other stray combustible material. Almost daily, he says, complaints are made regarding the throwing of waste paper in streets and alleys and adds that the practice is to be done away with under threats of prosecution.

Officer Tarr gives the citizens until Tuesday of next week to commence cleaning up. On that day he promises to embark on a house-to-house, yard-to-yard, alley-to-alley inspection of the town to see the results of the good work. Warrants will be issued in cases where the Health Board's mandates are not complied with. In this work the Board will have the able support of Burgess G. A. Markie and the Town Council.

The general health of the town of New Haven has been good and it is Officer Tarr's intention to maintain the high standard if possible. This and the improvement of the cleanliness of the town to visitors are the objects of the clean-up crusade.

SMITHFIELD.

Chatty Letter From the Metropolis of Georges Township.

Reinas Nos. 2 and 3 of the borough schools, taught by Miss Mary Miller and Miss Nellie Hays, respectively, closed by reason of the expiration of their terms yesterday with appropriate exercises. Each pupil received a handsome treat from their teacher. Miss Hays, accompanied by her friend, Miss Marie Abraham, left in the evening for Miss Hays's new home at Elizabethtown, Pa., where her father, Rev. J. W. Hayes, accepted the pastorate of a church and moved a few months since. The other two rooms of the school, No. 1, taught by Miss Daisy Frankenberg, and No. 4, taught by P. R. House, will be out the first today and No. 4 next week.

Clark Downey, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Downey, was seriously burned about the lower limbs from his night gown catching fire from an open gas fire which he was standing in front of after getting out of bed this morning. His father was badly burned about the hands and wrists in extinguishing the fire.

There was plenty of ice Monday and Tuesday nights and the temperature got to within ten degrees of zero Monday morning. The supposition is among the farmers that the fruit, if not all killed, is greatly damaged.

W. C. T. U. MEETING.

Regular Session at South Connellsville
Was Well Attended.

The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. of South Connellsville met at the home of Mrs. Geo. E. Shuman yesterday afternoon. The meeting was full of interest from the beginning. At the roll call members responded to their names by Scripture verses. The Superintendent of Snyderdown L. T. L. reported a fine meeting on March 20, it being Neal Dow day, and much interest was manifested in the work, some donating liberally to the cause.

A report was given by the Superintendent of Mercy. A letter was read from the National Conspicuous Secretary thanking the Union for their resolutions regarding the Crusade Monthly. The meeting adjourned by the benediction, to meet at the home of Mrs. Kissner the first Thursday in May.

Tonight three more races will be run, and Friday night three crack racers from Uniontown will endeavor to break all marks now made. Saturday night will be the most interesting race, as the five fastest skaters will contest for the local record and the three-cash prizes.

AGONIZING ACCIDENT.

Frank Lewellyn Plunged
Right Hand Into Boiling
Tar at Scottdale.

WILL BE BADLY CRIPPLED.

Big Sale at Ben Boyer's on Wednesday—The Woods Are Full of Candidates for Poor Director, Scottdale Already Having Five—Primitives Are Set for June 1.

SCOTSDALE, Apr. 4.—Frank Lewellyn, 14 years old, a son of J. Lee Lewellyn of Arthur and Emerson avenues, was the victim of an agonizing accident that may cost him the use of his right hand for the rest of his days. The boy accidentally plunged his hand into a trough of boiling substance naturally cling to his hand and literally cooked his way to the bone, there being no relief whatever for it. For some days Miller Brothers have had a large furnace standing on Spring street melting tar which is being used on the roof of the J. S. Parker Company's store. The children have been hanging the place. They poke sticks into the boiling mass of tar as it seethes in the iron trough, withdraw the stick and with it a ball of tar which they allow to cool sufficiently to be workable in their hands. The people in charge have been unable to keep them away and several pounds of tar, which is rocklike when cold, is carried away every day. The victim of Wednesday's accident plunged the stick into the deep and his hand went on nearly to the middle of the palm. In excruciating agony the lad ran across the street and fell writhing and screaming in pain on the lawn of the Baptist Church, where passers-by found him and took him to a physician.

The biggest farm sale in years took place Wednesday afternoon at Ben Boyer's fine farm near Rice's school house, northeast of town, when nearly 500 people hooked in on horseback, muleback, in wagons, in bugles, walking and in automobiles. Col. J. Caldwell Morrow, the dean of auctioneers, and one of the famous men produced by Rensselaer, schooled in Scottsdale, and polished in Pittsburgh, "cried the sale," and he and Mr. Boyer exchanged many jokes during the afternoon. The sale was a complete one of the farming stuff and all of it brought good prices, the market of blacks going for $15. C. W. Stauffer, who went up in his automobile from here, brought home a fine load of chickens.

Gas is now being used as a fuel under the boilers of the Old Meadow plant of the American Sheet & Tin Plate Company, the warmer weather giving the Fayette Gas Company a larger amount of gas for industrial concerns than they have had during the winter.

People are now breaking a habit of looking for the handle on the left side of the postoffice door, the handle having been changed to the other side. As it was first hung the door swung so to crowd against the partition of the Postmaster C. F. Probst's office and caught several of them between the door and the partition.

One of the heat pipes from the furnace in the Pittsburgh street school building fell down on Wednesday and split off the heat from a part of the building for half a day.

C. M. Jarrett's grocery store and the Brown Millinery Company are keeping together. For several years they were located side by side in the Jarrett building. Now a new building is to be put on that site and a few weeks ago the Brown Millinery Company moved into the Overholt building. On Wednesday Mr. Jarrett moved his grocery to the next room in the same building. They will remain there until the new brick business block is put up.

The political pot for the spring primaries set on Wednesday for June 1 is beginning to boil. The candidates for Directors for the Home for the Destitute are out, and about half of them have been too modest, at least at home, to patronize the printer to the extent of getting out those nice round-cornered cards that rain down upon the county. It is said to the day when your support and influence are solicited. So far only one Republican is out, that is William Henry Strickler, the well known black smith, who has a large acquaintance over the county. On the Democratic ticket there are more. Patrick J. O'Connor of the Fourth Ward, declared Wednesday that he will be out for the nomination. He is now serving his second term in Council from a Republican ward, and is an excellent and painstaking official. Joseph M. Steiner, a tobacconist, is in the list, as is Jonas Keenel, a groceryman, who made a hot run for tax collector last year, and Nelson Fyfe, one who has given his time to the party. All these will make excellent showings for the nomination. It is said that for this one office there are nearly 40 candidates in the county more candidates it would seem than paupers these piping days of prosperity.

From Westmoreland's County Seat.

GREENSBURG, Apr. 4.—Hose Company No. 3 Fifth Ward Drum Corps has planned a junketing trip down through the coke region. On the afternoon of Saturday, April 13, they will leave here in a special car, a short stop will be made at Mt. Pleasant, where liquid melody will be dispensed and then the journey will be continued to Connellsville. The corps has never forgotten the good treatment they received during their Centennial trip, and has been planning a return trip ever since. Principal points of interest in Connellsville will be soreheaded, and the corps will return on the last street car over the West Penn. They expect to have handsome summer uniforms by that time and will no doubt make a pretty appearance.

At the annual meeting of the First Presbyterian Church, held last evening, ing, a report showed that the contributions of the church for all purposes lacked $850 of equalling those of the previous year. Just what is the cause of the great slump in offerings was not explained, as the church seems to be in a very prosperous condition, and is one of the oldest congregations in Greensburg. The terms of Trustees W. B. Lucas and R. K. Porter expired. Jeff W. Taylor and James E. McFarland were elected to fill the places.

Phebe Bayard Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, lost its last "real daughter" yesterday when Mrs. Anna Stanger (recluse) died at her home in South Greensburg. She was almost 89 years old, and was well known throughout Greater Greensburg and the county. She was the only surviving child of Henry Stager's 12 children. He was a flier throughout the revolution. He was succeeded by the State of Pennsylvania in his old age. His wife, Barbara, was pensioned at his death. She died in 1850. John A. Hookler, husband of the dead woman, died in 1888. Since that time she has lived with her grandsons here. She had been a member of the local Chapter for a number of years, and was a great "find" when she provided her claim of being a "real daughter."

A squad of 25 players are trying for this year's High School base ball team. They have been practicing faithfully for two weeks under Prof. Baker and Captain Waldron, and some good material is being developed. Of the last year's team, Captain Elchert, a short, has shown his old form. D. Waldron at first, Mace as catcher, Wolf at third and A. Gant, Kabanowitz, C. Gant and Beyer in the outfield are all good. Manager Waldron will book games with some of the best prep schools in Western Pennsylvania, as well as many of the High School teams as can be signed, and an interesting season is expected.

Boilers of Southwestern Pennsylvania talked about how the spring season is as they meeting held here yesterday. They want to see more sunshine and that right speedily, as the festive pop refuses to overice in cold weather. John Dean and Jos. T. Johnston of Connellsville were among the delegates.

Detweiler Dodges Detectives.

Toledo, O., April 4.—A special to the Times from Toledo, Mich., says that A. Detweiler of this city, indicted for bribery at San Francisco, was located in a private house at Battle Creek, but escaped arrest by leaving the house by a rear door and being whisked away in an automobile. It is thought Detweiler's destination was Bellevue, 12 miles north of Battle Creek, where he could board a Grand Trunk train for Canada.

READY! Come, Spring Housefurnishers, and See How Well We've Prepared for You. ❀ ❀

A few real Spring days have had their effect on this business, and now we've cast off our moorings and swung out into the mid-stream of what is sure to be this big carpet and furniture house's biggest season's trade. We have prepared for more business and we doubt not one whit that it will come.

The feeling of confidence with which our patrons make purchases is the strongest kind of a tribute to this establishment and its methods of operation. There's confidence in this store's merchandise—in the most modest priced lines as well as the finer and most luxuriant. There's confidence in qualities here, the deep-rooted brand of confidence. And then our prices. The wage earner, and the man of means as well, know that they can positively buy here to better advantage than elsewhere. Now, if you do not know these things through experience, you owe it to yourself to investigate, and you have a standing invitation to look, you know.

If you are moving into a new home or refurnishing the old one, we can save you money without sacrificing appearance or comfort. Let us beautify your home. With larger and more varied stocks than ever before, we are ready for the Spring season of 1907.

Bright Spring Carpet Patterns

In a wealth of colorings and fabrics that cannot be equaled in Connellsville. In fact there are very few cities the size of ours in the State that can boast such a showing.

Tapestry Brussels Carpets

A popular line that's eminently satisfactory. The patterns and colors carry the earmarks of highest priced fabrics, being reproductions of the newest designs. Patterns for hall or stairs as well as for rooms; plenty of choice, too. Price, per yard, $1.00 and $1.10. Then we have good wearing qualities at 85c and 90c, and others still lower in price.

The Famous Ingrains

In our great line of All-Wool Ingrains at 75c and 85c we show all the new patterns in the best colorings, the latter being particularly adapted to the latest in wall papers.

Then we have All-Wool Filling Ingrains (colors guaranteed fast) in a variety of patterns suitable for any room, at 58c and 63c. Still lower priced ones, desirable for bed rooms, where wear is not so severe, at 30c to 48c.

As Usual We Will Sew, Lay, and Line Carpets Free of Charge

Room Rugs $1.50 to $36. Brimful of new designs in the many grades. The 9x12 size retains its prestige because of its general utility. However our lines of larger and smaller sizes are complete, and if per chance your size is not here our facilities for making special sizes or odd shapes were never better. Including Tapestry, Brussels, Velvets, Body Brussels, Axminsters, Saraks, American Orientals and Wiltons.

Great Furniture Assortment.

Yes, they are larger than this store ever before exhibited, but with heavy buying they're bound to dwindle, and "First buyers get first choice" was never more in point. Make your selections this week. We'll store without charge and deliver when you direct.

Pittsburg St., Connellsville, Pa.

In a banking service is a difficult attainment, but not an impossible one. It characterizes the service of the Second National Bank.

Every precaution is taken as to safety. Every investment made has the wise and careful consideration of one of our men of power but of the bank. Loans while liberal are made with precaution that makes it impossible for a heavy loss to result. Strong—Conservative—Sound.

The Second National Bank of Connellsville

Why You Should Bank Here.

A bank is what its directors make it—its strength depends largely upon their experience, judgment and responsibility—they are with you all the time, thought and effort they devote to it. The directors of this bank are well-known business men of this city, large holders of the bank's stock, therefore deeply interested in its stability and progress. They keep in constant touch with its affairs by constant meetings. This is one feature to be considered when selecting a banking house.

TOOK POISON BY MISTAKE.

Mrs. C. H. McClintock of Town Swallowed a Big Dose of Laudanum

WHICH MADE HER VERY ILL.

Prompt Work by Dr. J. F. Kerr, Who Administered an Antidote, Probably Saved Her Life—She thought She Was Taking Some Castoria.

By mistaking laudanum for Castoria, Mrs. Clinton H. McClintock, wife of a well known Baltimore & Ohio employe, almost died Wednesday evening. Mrs. McClintock went to a closet after the Castoria bottle and took down one containing laudanum instead. She took a good-sized dose before the mistake was discovered. Dr. J. F. Kerr was immediately summoned but by the time he arrived the victim was already suffering from the effects of the poison.

By the prompt administering of antidotes and long and earnest work on the part of the physician, Mrs. McClintock was aroused from the partial stupor into which she was thrown by the drug and fatal results were prevented.

This morning she is all right again, but still feels the effects of her mistake. Mr. McClintock was out on his run at the time.

Let's Talk It Over, Anyhow.

A friend from a western town writes:

"We can trace at least a thousand increase of population the past year from the fact that the fifty-four members of our Commercial Club about a year ago all agreed to have printed on the back of their business letterheads
a description of the town, its location, climate, natural advantages, possibilities for business, etc. Thus every letter they wrote was an advertisement for the town. The town booming matter was artistically printed, and the catch line being visible as the folded sheet was taken from the envelope,
few persons failed to read it. Inquiries for more information
came pouring in, and then the people came pouring in. Why don't you try to have your people do likewise?"

going out to all quarters of the compass.

One of these letters might strike the eye of just the right party and bring us a new factory, an educational institution, or even a good substantial family looking for a desirable home place.

It is worth trying.

We can get up the descriptive matter for you and do
the printing.

Why don't you start the ball?

LET'S TALK IT OVER, ANYHOW.

The Wright-Metzler Co.

Connellsville Store.

Facts Concerning Our Dress Goods Dept.

Comprehensiveness—that's a word that fully tells the story, but it is only understood by those who know the extent and variety of these stocks.
We'll relate a few facts that must plainly indicate the completeness of our dress goods department.

There are over five hundred distinct designs and colorings to choose among. There is over two hundred and fifty feet of shelving devoted to dress goods alone. There are dress goods priced from 25c to $2.50 per yard.

And lastly, but least by no means, every piece of dress goods on our shelves today is new, absolutely and dependably new, new in design, new in coloring, new in weave. Emphatically, no matter how large or varied a stock may be, you cannot compare ours with it in a negative way. We buy merchandise at almost as low a price as do the great department stores of Pittsburg. Our selling expenses are less, our lighting and heating is less than theirs.

Result: We can compete with any one anywhere in the selling of dress goods. Our stocks afford every wanted fabric, and good common sense will tell you that we're large enough to demand and get concessions when we buy. It's not hard to reason out why we are increasing our dress goods business when you know the facts.
We'll sum it up in eight little words:

"You get what you want at a saving."
